

Peggy McIlveene (29 Nov 2006)
"My husband speaking in Hebrew..."

Hi, Doves!

My husband and I have never spoken Hebrew in our lives (except to try to learn it on the Internet), but yesterday morning, Richard woke up saying:

"Yehoveh eloheynu, Yehoveh El Shaddai echad HaShem"

...which, from what I can determine by searching on the Internet means "Yehoveh (YHWH) our God, Yehoveh the Lord God is one God" ... does anyone know if this is correct?

Also, does anyone know why the Spirit would prompt Richard to awaken speaking Hebrew, which is a language he'd never spoken?

Also, I have recently been receiving a great many "touches" from the Spirit in my left hand, mostly my center fingertip, but sometimes the whole hand. Since I rededicated my life to Him in 2002, I have felt MANY touches from His Spirit in various parts of my body, but never known really WHY those particular body parts, except once when I was healed from a lengthy bout with laryngitis. Anybody know why He would fill my left hand?

Your input on these two subjects would be GREATLY appreciated!

YSIC!

Peggy

www.his-forever.com